

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONTACT:

Romina Colombo
Public Relations Manager
The Alexis Agency
772.231.5999

Miller's Fine Decorative Hardware and Luxe Magazine Proudly Host the Third Annual "Where the Wild Things Are" Signature Event to Benefit Busch Wildlife Sanctuary at Loxahatchee River District

Mark your calendars for November 11th, from 6pm-8pm

Jupiter, FL, October 11, 2010 – If you need a good reason to enjoy an evening of signature beverages, delicious food, and great entertainment -- all with the satisfaction of knowing that you're supporting a local charity at the same time -- join Miller's Fine Decorative Hardware at their showroom in Jupiter on November 11th for the third annual "Where the Wild Things Are" fundraising event benefiting The Busch Wildlife Sanctuary at Loxahatchee River District. It's open and free to the public.

This year's event will feature live music, specialty bar, heavy hors d'oeuvres, raffle prizes and a live auction. Food will be sponsored and provided by Guanabanas, and accompanied by a signature cocktail beverage mixed and served by 4 Orange Vodka. The entire evening will be complemented by the soothing sounds of Bluebird Productions. Guests will also have the opportunity to mingle with leading lights from The Busch Wildlife Sanctuary, including Executive Director David Hitzig, Director of Education & Biology Christen Mason, and the wild friends they help to rescue.

That's not all - during the evening guests will also be able to participate in a charity raffle and auction with fantastic prizes, including gift certificates to local restaurants and retailers, spa treatments, home goods, decorative hardware certificates and much more. All proceeds benefit the Busch Wildlife Sanctuary to assist in the charity's work for sick, injured and orphaned wildlife.

"We have a lot of unique prizes and gift bags. We are fortunate we have received many giveaways from area businesses and artists. The attendees will not be disappointed," says Vicki Pfeil, Owner of Miller's Fine Decorative Hardware.

Doors open at 6 pm for the cocktail hour and bidding on the silent auction.

The Busch Wildlife Sanctuary at Loxahatchee River District is a non-profit organization dedicated to the protection and conservation of Florida's wildlife and natural resources. Each year, over 5,000 animals receive medical care at the Sanctuary's wildlife hospital. While the ultimate goal is to return the wild animals to their natural habitats, many of the animals treated at the Sanctuary have suffered from traumatic injuries, leaving them permanently impaired. The Sanctuary provides a refuge for the animals that cannot be released back into the wild.

"Where the Wild Things Are" is made possible by: Miller's Fine Decorative Hardware, Luxe Magazine, 4 Orange Vodka, Guanabanas, and BlueBird Productions.

For more details regarding "Where the Wild Things Are" please visit www.millershardware.com or call 561.746.4800. You can also visit www.buschwildlife.com

Photo Id's:

WTWTA 1. A member of the Busch Wildlife Sanctuary team holds up a bald eagle

WTWTA 2. Athena, Barn Owl. Barn Owls are also called Monkey-faced Owls.

###